ent: The new iPhones are rumoured to run on the A20 Pro chip, which should bring better speed and efficiency. Some leaks suggest Apple might slightly tweak the front design, but nothing is confirmed yet.\n\nCamera upgrades are expected across all models. A 48MP ultrawide camera could become standard, and video recording might jump to 8K at 60fps. The phones are expected to launch with iOS 27, bringing better AI features, a more capable Siri, and stronger privacy controls.\n\nAs for a foldable iPhone, it’s still more talk than reality at this point.\n\nGoogle Pixel 11 Series\n\nExpected launch: October 2026  \nExpected price in India: From around ₹70,000\n\nGoogle’s Pixel 11 series is expected to arrive in October 2026. The lineup will likely include the Pixel 11, Pixel 11 Pro, and Pixel 11 XL. [...] Performance shouldn’t be an issue either. The phones are likely to run on the latest Snapdragon processor, with some regions getting an Exynos version. Another upgrade people are talking about is display brightness, which could go as high as 5,000 nits, making the phone easier to use outdoors.\n\nSamsung is also expected to push its AI features further, especially for photo and video editing, focusing more on real-world use rather than gimmicks.\n\nApple iPhone 18 Series\n\nApple iPhone 18 Series\n\nExpected launch: September 2026  \nExpected price in India: From around ₹1,20,000\n\nApple is likely to stick to its usual September launch window for the iPhone 18 series. Don’t expect a dramatic redesign, but there should be noticeable improvements where it matters. [...] The biggest talking point here is a 200MP camera, combined with a periscope lens for better zoom shots. The phones are expected to use a Snapdragon processor and come with AI-based editing tools that are actually useful for everyday photos.\n\nFeatures like 4K HDR video, better portrait shots, and a large battery suggest Realme is trying to deliver serious value with this series.\n\nSamsung Galaxy Z Fold 8 & Galaxy Z Flip 8\n\nExpected launch: Mid-2026  \nExpected price:

Fold 8 could cost over ₹1,50,000\n\nSamsung is expected to continue improving its foldable phones with the Galaxy Z Fold 8 and Z Flip 8.\n\nThe Fold 8 may come with a wider outer screen and a slimmer hinge, making it more comfortable to use daily. Battery life could also improve, which has been a common complaint with foldables.\nScore: 0.8873\n\nTitle: Upcoming Smartphones in India 2026 - Trending Techie\nURL: https://trendingtechie.com/upcoming-smartphones-in-india-2026/\nContent: Upcoming Smartphones in India 2026 · 1.
